Recasting Your Wholesale Business with iXLink: Improving Productivity and Lowering Costs

The international wholesale market's decreasing margins are driving carriers to seek ways to improve their efficiency as a business. To combat decreasing margins, they need to grow revenue, have smooth and efficient processes in place, and keep up with an ever-changing digital world.

The most common challenges carriers face on a daily basis:

- Carriers must manage as many as 500,000 price details per trading partner in varied formats and dial code structures every month
- Handling origin-based zones and rates across trading, routing, and billing
- Missing and errored A-numbers in price lists
- Asynchronized distribution systems for voice & messaging
- Pricing disputes stemming from disparate interpretations of contracts or incorrect network configuration iXLink helps carriers simplify increasing business complexities and pressure.

TOMIA's B2B digital communication service iXLink automates and standardizes the exchange of critical business information such as price lists, contracts, and billing documents. iXLink drives work efficiency and generates new opportunities.
